Why Choose Me?

I would be a great fit for the Montana District Key Club Tech Master role because of my leadership and technical experience. Leadership Experience – As a Lieutenant Governor, I have developed strong leadership, communication, and organizational skills, which are essential for managing the district’s tech responsibilities.

Yearbook President Experience – Serving as the president of my school’s yearbook has given me hands-on experience with design, layout, photography, and digital tools, making me well-suited for tasks like website updates, social media management, and digital content creation. Tech-Savvy Skills – Managing the yearbook requires proficiency with design software, editing tools, and publishing platforms, which directly translate to the technical aspects of this role. Attention to Detail – Filming basketball games and overseeing yearbook layouts have strengthened my ability to focus on details, ensuring high-quality digital content and a polished online presence. Communication & Collaboration – My experience working with teams in Key Club, yearbook, and basketball management has proven my ability to collaborate effectively, troubleshoot technical issues, and support a strong digital presence for the organization. Commitment to Key Club – My dedication to Key Club as a Lieutenant Governor reflects my passion for service and my willingness to contribute at a higher level, making me a reliable candidate for the Tech Master role.

Why Choose Me?

Since I was a little kid I have always been involved with the K-family. It has taught me the need for cooperation through neighboring clubs and the different groups in the K-family. Along with being a Key Clubber, I am a farmer. Farming has taught me hard work, quick thinking, patience, and problem solving. I think using these abilities I have learned I can help my division increase membership, while growing closer together.
